THE TEXAS LIFE

INSURANCE FIGHT
The state of Texas is fighting a bold battle with life insurance companies. The fight was caused by recent act of the legislature of Texas requiring life insurance companies to hold 75 per cent of the reserve on Texas policies in the state of Texas.This was too much for the companies, so they struck back by withdrawing from the state. What the result of it all will be is not easy to foresee.ROGERS ILL, NOT SERIOUSLY.

Gretna is Alberta!

Good roads and improved farms go together.Six hundred car loads of Oklahomans go to the estimate for Oklahoma.Oklahoma has more than enough rainfalls to reach across the continent.There is only one thing greater than Alberta and that is Oklahoma, land by its native.Forty acres of Alberta pearl onions grown in Oklahoma is worth as much as an income, say a whole edition in most places.The dog which has a friend in the Oklahoma tax payer or an enemy in the assessor. The tax rolls show $20,833 of them.The taxable property of Oklahoma Total is amount to $105,337,371.
This follows the Oklahoma plan and breaks all records.The Democratic party will steadily put its face against Federal encroachments on the rights of states, whether under the guise of construction or otherwise.Oklahoma does not need to pull down any old barns, but it should build larger ones. The real progress of a country can best be judged by its farm houses and barns.Should the Republican convention at Tulsa pronounce for statehood, the whole opposition would collapse like a house and the vote for the hand wagon would surpass anything in history. But it is "yes" or "no."There are only two questions which the President can consider in dealing with a constitution adopted by the people of Oklahoma: Does it conflict with the Federal Constitution and does it comply with the conditions of the enabling act? Any arbitrary decision of these questions would justify article of impeachment.The White State Capital is having a difficult time making itself believed it is strong for a state ticket and statehood. Far a repudiated organization, always wrong, always foolish, and ever inclined to wilfully misrepresent the Allard in charge of the editorial policy of the Capital is moving himself worthy of his name!—Shawnee Herald.One really responsible man in jail one real orator of the schemes and transactions which are contrary to the public interest legally lodged in the penitentiary would be worth more than a thousand corporations multiplied in fives. If this reform is to be genuine and permanent—President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton.And hereof does President Wilson agree with our old Irish paddler, "Mickey," whose favorite report when tested was: "It's in jail, that's ought to be."Registration cannot be sufficiently made within the next year. There is no desire anywhere to make government ownership in time in 1908. To inject the government ownership into the next campaign would simply afford a chance to dodge the railroads a chance to dodge the house and deceive the public. The Democratic party must meet the issue presented; if it must resist the encroachments upon the authority of the states, it must stand upon the basis of Federal power for the restriction of interstate commerce and it must insist upon the exercise of state authority for the exercise of all of the powers vested in the state of Oklahoma. Now!The state of Texas is fighting a bold battle with life insurance companies. The split was caused by recent act of the legislature of
foresee.Solved the present situation continue there is one thing certain, and that is, that the millions that have been lost in New York for use in high finance will, in part, return to Texas. It looks as if Texas could stand it, if we companies can.
Life insurance is the one thing that will be increasing, and is to be held by the Federal agents of persons. What "conservative" can do for Federal protection in this domain will remain one of the problems of the future.The state of Texas is fighting a

SHORTHAND WRITERS

IN ANNUAL SESSION

(By Associated Press.)
Asheville, N. C., July 26.—Asheville is getting ready to entertain the National Standard Reporters' association, which is to meet in ninth annual convention at Kendalworth Inn early next month.The association was organized at Chicago in 1899 and now has a membership of nearly 600, including the most of the prominent shorthand reporters in the United States. The president of the association is Mr. Ben Pittman, of Cincinnati, a brother of Sir Samuel Pitman, the inventor of the Pitman shorthand. Mr. Pittman is now eighty-five years old. He was a valuable aid to his distinguished brother in bringing out the Pitman system of shorthand several years ago.The number of women employed as printers in England increases every year. At present there are 200 in London alone.Drug clerks of Los Angeles have taken up the matter of the law regulating the hours of work, a number of druggists have failed to carry out its provisions.The United Hatters' International Union has established an international death benefit system by which the nominee of a member receives a stipulation upon the death of a member.By an executive order the employees of the government printing office are now enjoying a half-holiday on Saturdays during July, August and September, the same as employees of other departments.Judge Bigger of Columbus, Ohio, has declared the Wartz law unconstitutional on the ground that it is not of universal operation and that it is retroactive. The law provides that no more than 10 per cent of the number of men employed in any trade in the state can be used in the penitentiary for the labor.The new law which limits the hours of service in the telegraph branch of the railway service has set the railroads of the United States face to face with the task of securing about 6,000 telegraph operators, and possibly double that number, during the next nine months. It is anticipated that great difficulty will be found in supplying the demand as there is already a dearth of operators.

BOSTON'S OLD HOME-WEEK.

Boston, Mass., July 26.—Boston's old-home week celebration, which is to begin Saturday, is planned for August 12-14.The advance word of visitors is passing by the door, and it is expected the first of the week will find the city overrunning the largest crowd in its history. The program will be ushered in Sunday with appropriate religious and patriotic exercises in many parts of the city. Bands and choirs will be engaged throughout the week.Four new styles in Men's Wizard's, LONG TRIP FOR SECY. STRAUS.

San Francisco, July 25.—In order to see himself how the new immigration law is working in Hawaii, Secy.
Straus is sailing for Honolulu today.
He will be in the steamer Siberia in the Hawaiian Islands. Secretary Straus will investigate the subject of immigration, carefully giving special attention to the constant ship and boat of aliens to and from those islands.
The question of Japanese immigration will receive particular attention. Secretary Straus plans to be going after several weeks. He is accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Straus and his private secretary, T. L. Wood.
